

Day of Caring Program

“Employees are always up for a challenge. Each year we see an increase in volunteers, and we’re always looking for new and exciting projects.”

Melanee Framp, Business Analyst, R.M.W.B.

WE BELIEVE...
 THAT EVERYONE NEEDS HELP AND EVERYONE CAN OFFER HELP.

Through the Day of Caring Program, the United Way matches host agencies in need of volunteers with community teams looking for unique opportunities to give back.

Day of Caring projects provide agencies with the people power needed to pull off a variety of projects, allowing them to invest more of their resources into the essential programs and services our community requires. Day of Caring projects mobilize local businesses to participate in meaningful, hands-on activities.

A Day of Caring is a great way to build your corporate team while making a tangible impact on our community.

For more information about projects, deadlines and guidelines please contact the United Way of Fort McMurray office.
